MOHAMMED ASMALJEE

Strategic Lead for Climate and Integration, Harmony Gold

Mohammed Asmaljee is a strategic leader in energy transition, climate strategy, and sustainable mining, currently leading Climate and Integration at Harmony Gold. In this role, he is responsible for advancing climate resilience, decarbonisation, and the integration of sustainability into business strategy and operations.

Prior to joining Harmony Gold, Mohammed led the development of the decarbonisation strategy at Anglo American, helping shape the company's pathway toward a lower-carbon future and supporting its broader sustainability ambitions.

With nearly two decades of industry experience, Mohammed brings deep expertise at the intersection of strategy, sustainability, and operational excellence. He has also led high-impact engagements across the mining, energy, and oil and gas sectors, partnering with major multinational organisations to address complex business, environmental, and operational challenges.

He is passionate about driving meaningful impact, fostering innovation, and helping shape a more sustainable and resilient future for the resources sector.
