

Mental Health is a human right

Remember, you have a right to mental health support, protection from mental health risks, and unconditional inclusion in your workplace and community.

Make mental health a priority.
Get support when you need it.

Mental health is a universal human right