

SYLVESTERS OKELLO

Principal, RIIS

Sylvesters Okello is a seasoned strategy consultant with over 13 years of experience across Sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, and South-East Asia. His expertise spans strategic planning, project management, and organisational development across sectors including energy, health, climate, and financial services.

He has worked with Fortune 500 companies, governments, and multilateral institutions, and has led notable projects in sustainability and innovation - including serving as Project Lead for the Modernisation and Innovation work with the Minerals Council South Africa.