Dear Member,

On 22 June we will be celebrating all the women across the mining value-chain. Women who through their talent, effort and contributions continue to work together towards an inclusive, equitable and sustainable mining industry.

This year's theme, as declared by the global organisation International Women In Mining, is "Equity in Mining is Everyone's Responsibility". Therefore, it is within the context of this clarion call that we will take a moment to hear from mining industry leaders on the strategic drivers of equity in mining; while also taking a moment to reflect on the success, challenges, and opportunities as we collectively endeavour to drive equity in mining through the support of women-owned businesses.
